How to draw a dragonfly step by step easy

Open Dragonfly PDF Tutorial Open Dragonfly Coloring Page Any day is a good day to learn how to draw a dragonfly, but spring time when everything is blooming just seems extra nice. This drawing was actually made years ago by a young kinder named Yuna, and it's one of those special ones that I could look at all day. The little bow, the hearts and stripes, the puffy clouds and happy flowers just ooze a kind of playfulness that is perfect in every way. I hope the simplicity of this one helps bring out the creativity in your students too! Draw a Realistic Dragonfly Open Dragonfly Realistic PDF Tutorial Dragonfly Realistic Coloring Page Open Dragonfly Realistic Coloring Page Materials Eraser. Large ones you can hold in your hand do a much better job than just the pencil tips. Black Sharpie Marker. These fine point permanent marker pens make nice black outlines, have a good tip for coloring, and never bleed when they get wet. Use them with good ventilation and add extra paper underneath to protect your tables. Prang Crayons. These are a bit softer than other crayons so they sometimes look like oil pastels. They also have a some nice brown shades that Crayola does not have unless you buy their larger boxes. Crayola Crayons. The reliable brand that always works well. The 24 pack has some of my favorite golden orange and yellow colors that seem a bit richer and warmer than the ones Prang has. Step by Step Directions Time needed: 1 hour. How to Draw an Easy Dragonfly Draw a circle for the head, and three ovals behind it. Add a face (bow is optional!). Draw two wings with center lines inside. Add lots of "broken" looking lines inside. Draw four simple legs. Add lots of vertical stripes. Draw a ground line and some flowers. Add clouds and a sun in the sky. Trace with a marker and color. More Insects to Draw Do you think that you're not able to draw such a beautiful dragonfly or draw a Butterfly as in my picture? Let's try! Just take a sharp pencil because the lines must be thin. If you draw a dragonfly with me, step by step, you'll get an excellent drawing. At the end of the lesson you can paint your picture and draw a background, so your dragonfly will be very realistic like in photos. This video is about drawing a Dragonfly step by step. The video is adapted for beginners and kids. Step 1 At first you should draw the main contour. It will be the oval-shaped body. In front of it draw a circle. It will be the head of your dragonfly. Then draw a long line for the dragonfly's tail. Step 2 At first draw a straight line that passes through the middle of the dragonfly's body. But pay attention to the fact that the line is oblique. It starts at the upper right-hand corner of the paper and ends at the bottom left-hand corner. I think that you are able to draw the second line for the wings without my comments. Then make a preliminary marking at the end of the tail. Step 3 If you've done everything right, it will be easy for you to continue drawing your dragonfly. Start with simple things. Connect the head with the body, draw the contour of the tail and then start drawing the wings. Step 4 Everything you need at this stage is to draw the body and wings of your dragonfly. There is no sense in commenting, just prolong the lines of the wings and erase all the guidelines. Now you see that it is easy to draw a dragonfly in pencil if you do it step by step. Step 5 Yes, it's the last step of our lesson because our dragonfly is almost ready. If you paint your drawing with colour pencils now, the 6th step won't be required. Now you should draw 4 limbs and eyes on the head. Dragonflies have excellent eyesight. They can see everything around them thanks to specific structure of their eyes. Step 6 At the last step of our lesson you should shade your drawing of dragonfly using a soft pencil. The wings are transparent. Just draw some veins on them. The tail must be dark and the body is fair. Outline the eyes of the dragonfly and shade them. But your drawing will be more beautiful if you paint it with colour pencils and draw a bluish background. You can also draw Flowers around your dragonfly, etc. Draw a great looking Dragonfly with easy, step-by-step drawing instructions and video tutorial. Great for kids and beginner artists! Similar to the way a tadpole becomes a frog, swimming dragonfly nymphs eventually take flight. These insects are most active during the day, while fireflies are nocturnal.Dragonflies can have lifespans of several years; most of this time is spent in the nymph stage. Some adult dragonflies even migrate across oceans, and they have been clocked at speeds up to 60 miles per hour.The fossil record shows that dragonflies are a very ancient species. Ancient dragonflies were much larger than those of today; some had wingspans of nearly three feet.Dragonflies are hunters, and they eat insects such as mosquitoes and moths.Scroll down for a downloadable PDF of this tutorial.Dragonfly images have been identified on age-old art forms, including pottery shards, Egyptian amulets, and rock paintings. Today, they are often pictured in jewelry and other decorative items.A cartoon dragonfly named Evinrude is featured in the 1977 Disney film The Rescuers. In Japan, dragonflies "are symbols of courage, strength, and happiness," and their images appear on vases and other items, both new and old.Would you like to draw your own dragonfly? This simple, step-by-step dragonfly drawing tutorial is here to help. All you will need is a pencil and a piece of paper.You may also wish to use paints, crayons, markers, or colored pencils to shade your finished drawing, as dragonflies come in a wide range of often metallic colors.If you liked this tutorial, see also the following drawing guides: Ladybug, Cartoon Spider, and Spider web with Spider.Easy, step by step Dragonfly drawing tutorialClick HERE to save the tutorial to Pinterest!Step-by-Step Instructions for Drawing a Dragonfly Dragonfly drawing - step 1 1. Begin by drawing a small circle. This will form the dragonfly's head. Beneath the circle, draw a small oval. This forms the thorax, or midsection, of the insect.Dragonfly drawing - step 2 2. Beneath the oval, draw a larger, highly elongated oval with a slightly pointed end. This forms the dragonfly's abdomen, or tail.Dragonfly drawing - step 3 3. Draw the wing. Extend a long, curved line from the top of the thorax. Curve the line back on itself until it meets the bottom of the thorax, completely enclosing the wing.Dragonfly drawing - step 4 4. Repeat this process on the opposite side to form the second wing. Again, use a long, curved line, connected on both ends to the thorax.Dragonfly drawing - step 5 5. Draw the lower wing. Again, you will extend a long, curved line from the thorax, allowing it to double back on itself to enclose the shape.Dragonfly drawing - step 6 6. Draw the final of the dragonfly's four wings. Extend a long, curved line from the thorax, and allow it to double back on itself to enclose the shape.Dragonfly drawing - step 7 7. Draw the dragonfly's eyes. To do so, draw two half circles on the front of the head, using a short, curved line for each. Then, draw the dragonfly's forelegs. For each foreleg, extend a curved line from the junction of the head and thorax. Notice how the line bends in the middle, forming a joint in the leg. Then, extend a second curved line nearly parallel to the first, allowing the lines to meet at the end. Repeat on the opposite side.Dragonfly drawing - step 8 8. Add detail to your dragonfly. Draw veins on the wings using curved lines. For the upper wings, draw a long, curved line down the length of the wing. Then, extend a few shorter curved lines from this line to the wing's edge. For the lower wings, draw two curved lines down the length of each. Finally, texture the thorax using short, curved lines.Dragonfly drawing - step 9 9. Indicate the segmentation of the abdomen by banding it with short, curved lines.Complete Dragonfly drawing 10. Color your dragonfly. Dragonflies can come in a rainbow of colors, including blues, greens, and golds.
